STOPP INTERNATIONAL 2011 REPORT ON PLANNED PARENTHOOD CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

By Robert Gasper and Jim Sedlak

American Life League's STOPP International project conducted research on the Chief Executive Officers of all the Planned Parenthood affiliates throughout the United States. The purpose of this research was to determine the salaries paid to the CEOs, their gender and their management backgrounds.

Summary Results:

We identified 81 affiliates that are currently active. In examining the CEOs of these affiliates, we found:

- The sum of the total annual base salaries paid to PP CEOs is $12,862,560
- Average salary of a CEO is $158,797 per year
  - 22 (27%) make over $200,000 per year
  - The dozen highest salaries were paid to CEOs of the following affiliates:

1. PP North Texas, Dallas, TX (salary of previous CEO)	$324,381
2. PP Mar Monte, San Jose, CA (Linda Williams)	$315,950
3. PP Illinois, Chicago, IL (salary of previous CEO)	$302,014
4. PP Hudson Peconic, Hawthorne, NY (Reina Schiffrin)	$296,908
5. PP Northern New England, Williston, VT (Steve Trombley)	$292,297
6. PP Orange & San Bernadino, Orange, CA (Joe Dunn)	$278,871
7. PP Treasure Coast, West Palm Beach, FL (Lillian Tamayo)	$275,238
8. PP MN, SD & ND, St. Paul, MN (Sarah Stoesz)	$268,710
9. PP Heartland, Des Moines, IA (Jill June)	$265,389
10. PP Southern New England, New Haven, CT (Judy Tabar)	$264,766
11. PP Great Northwest, Seattle, WA (Chris Charbonneau)	$259,405
12. PP League of MA, Boston, MA (Dianne Luby)	$256,474
- 52 (64%) are women
- 9 (11%) have a political background
- 10 (12%) have a health background
- 2 (2%) have an educational background
- The remaining 75% have backgrounds in management

In addition to the affiliates, Planned Parenthood has a national office in New York City.

Total salaries paid to the top eight officials of the national office in 2010 was $2,156,334

Top salaries at the national office, according to the PPFA Federal Form 990 for the year ending June 30, 2010 are:

President	Cecile Richards	$353,819
Chief Operating Officer	Maryana Iskander	$288,886
Chief Financial Officer	Maria Acosta	$263,443
VP of Medical Affairs	Vanessa Cullins	$257,115
VP of General Counsel	Barbara Otten	$251,379
VP of Public Policy	Laurie Rubiner	$248,438
VP of Operations	Karen Ruffatto	$247,932
VP of Affiliates	Lisa David	$245,322

Background:

Planned Parenthood has a national headquarters in New York City. That headquarters organization, Planned Parenthood Federation of America, supervises the overall operation of Planned Parenthood in the United States. PPFA, itself, does not run any medical or educational facilities.

PPFA is made up of affiliates across the country. Each affiliate is an independently incorporated entity that voluntarily operates as part of the Federation. It must meet certain operational criteria and adhere to certain financial guidelines, including paying dues to PPFA, in order to use the name Planned Parenthood.

Our research shows that, in December 2011, PPFA was made up of some 81<sup>1</sup> affiliates. These affiliates had their own corporate offices in a total of 34 states. The affiliates operated medical facilities in 49 states (and the District of Columbia) and educational offices in an additional state (North Dakota). Each affiliate was led by a Chief Executive Officer appointed by that affiliate's Board of Directors.

Methodology:

The research was conducted using standard Open Source Analysis. All documentation was found using publicly available information. Sources included Federal Form 990s, Affiliate Annual Reports, Newspaper articles and other publicly available documents.

Planned Parenthood CEO Profiles

There were a number of choices to be made in how the data that follows could be presented. In the end, we felt that most people who used the report would be interested in the Planned Parenthood affiliates operating in a given state. Thus, the list is by state. In cases where a Planned Parenthood affiliate has operations in more than one state, we have included its full information under each state in which it operates. Although this means that the report has duplicate entries, it was felt that this would be most useful to the average reader.

NOTE: The objective of this study is to compile open source biographical information of Planned Parenthood's CEO's. In order to remain as objective as possible, fair use direct quotations from media sources and even Planned Parenthood itself comprise the bulk of this report rather than summarizations. That being the case, the operations and actions of these CEO's at times are described in glowing or euphemistic terminology. American Life League in no way condones or supports the actions of Planned Parenthood and does not consider the operations of Planned Parenthood as "services" to the community.

“Chris Charbonneau has been a CEO for Planned Parenthood affiliates for twenty-three years. She began as a volunteer in Seattle in 1982 as a sexuality educator and public policy volunteer. Chris started PP of Greater Arkansas in 1986. She left Arkansas in 1988 and returned to PP of Seattle-King County as COO, directing its 12 health centers.

In 1993 she became the CEO of PP of Seattle-King County leading the affiliate from a three million to a $17 million organization. In 1996, Chris led a three affiliate merger that created PP of Western Washington (PPWW). In 2008, Chris led another three affiliate merger combining PP of Alaska, PP of Idaho, and PP of Western Washington to form PP of the Great Northwest (PPGNW). Charbonneau is currently the CEO of PPGNW, with 28 health centers in Alaska, Idaho, and western Washington, providing medical services and sexuality education for thousands of women, men, and teenagers each year.”

CEO: Bryan Howard

Base Compensation: $198,863
(2010 990)

"Bryan attended the University of Southern California as an undergraduate, where he studied economics, and the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University."

“became the President and CEO of Planned Parenthood Arizona, Inc. (PPAZ) in 2007 when the organization was created from the merger of two predecessor Planned Parenthood affiliates based in Phoenix and Tucson. PPAZ is Arizona’s largest private provider of sexual and reproductive health care, education and public policy advocacy. The agency’s 250 staff serve over 100,000 women, couples and teens throughout Arizona. PPAZ has an annual budget of $17.5 million that is financed by charitable donations, patient and education service fees, and federal family planning funds.

Bryan has helped lead the national Planned Parenthood organization through his involvement with numerous boards, committees and task forces. Other groups with which Bryan has been involved focus their missions on leadership development, community and HIV / AIDS health care, civil rights for gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered people and historical research and scholarship. In 2006 he was elected to the national organization’s Board of Directors, as well as that of the Planned Parenthood Action Fund that conducts voter and candidate education. In 1989 Chicago’s Howard Brown Health Center presented Bryan the “Friend for Life Award” in recognition of his fundraising and governance achievements.

In 2008 Bryan received the Ruth Green Award bestowed by the PPFA Affiliate Chief Executives Council for lifetime achievement in Planned Parenthood executive leadership.”

CEO: Nancy Kachel - RETIRING IN AUGUST 2011

Base Compensation: $163,632
(2009 990)

“She has been a teacher, a social worker, a guest artist, a counselor, a benefits administrator, an executive secretary, a vice president and marketing director for a multi-million-dollar real estate development firm, and the director of two public-purpose agencies.

But most people around here know her as the longtime president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of Eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas.”

“After several different careers elsewhere in the country, Kachel and her husband Ted came to Tulsa in the 1980s. She became director of Domestic Violence Intervention Services in 1984 and during her three years with that agency, she helped build a 60-bed shelter for women and children and obtained funding to train police, district attorneys and judges about domestic violence issues.

She moved to Planned Parenthood in 1988, and during her quarter-century there has steered a ten-fold growth in the agency's services and operations. Under her leadership, the agency's services have expanded into eastern Oklahoma and throughout Arkansas.”

CEO: Linda Williams

Base Compensation: $315,950
(2009 990)

“At Joint Venture she is a member of the board, serves on the executive committee, and serves as an advisor to the annual Silicon Valley Index. She also brings her expertise in nonprofit governance and her commitment to inclusion to help steer the organization.”

After she graduated from college, Linda moved to her family home in Tulsa, where she took a job as a reporter (“my job was to report on gentler things.”) She soon married her husband John, who worked for the Southern Pacific Railroad, a job that took them all over the country.

The journey took her to graduate school in creative writing at San Francisco State; to rural El Centro, New Mexico (“I literally read every book in the library”), to Washington, DC, where she worked in a variety of social service organizations; to graduate school in Psychology at Santa Clara University; and to work with a market research firm in Pennsylvania, all while she raised two sons.

“By 1989 she had become extremely passionate about the state of women’s issues, particularly those relating to reproductive health. “I knew I wanted to do something about it,” she recalls, “so I called the Director of Planned Parenthood in Santa Clara County and told her I would like to volunteer. As luck would have it, she told me she had just submitted her resignation and suggested I apply for the job.”

“Laura has been the President and CEO of Planned Parenthood of Western New York since 2003 (formerly Planned Parenthood of Buffalo and Erie County). With six health clinics and one mobile unit, PPWNY serves approximately 20,000 unduplicated patients per year.

During her tenure, Laura oversaw the strategic merger between two Planned Parenthood affiliates to become Planned Parenthood of Western New York as well as the expansion of teen pregnancy prevention initiatives including two teen theatre programs and a teen drop-in center. The affiliate was recently recognized by Planned Parenthood Federation of America for outstanding work with teens. In addition, Laura directed expansion of medication abortion access; led a capital construction project to renovate the PPWNY headquarters; and, secured funding for a full service mobile health care unit. Laura is known as an innovative fundraiser, having led the affiliate in implementing a multi-year giving program as well as a community awareness and fundraising campaign “We’re So Much More.”

Her community service includes serving for twelve years as an elected member of the Amherst Central School District Board of Education. Laura also serves on the boards of the Pro-Choice Foundation of Western New York and California Summer Music. Within Planned Parenthood, Laura is the current Secretary for the Affiliate Chief Executives Council (ACEC) and a board member for the newly created company created by ACEC to secure a source of contraceptives.

Laura holds a Ph.D. in Social Foundations of Education from the University at Buffalo (UB), a Masters in Counseling from UB and an undergraduate degree from the State University of New York at Albany. She is a graduate of the Jacobs School of Management Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership Core Program as well as the Community Health Foundation of Western and Central New York’s Community Health Leadership Fellowship program.

Prior to Planned Parenthood, Laura was Vice President of National Program for EPIC-Every Person Influences Children headquartered in Buffalo where she supervised evaluation research and curriculum development including its award-winning program, “Ready, Set Read.”

“Lillian Tamayo has more than twenty-five years of experience in executive management. As President/CEO of PPSFTC, Ms. Tamayo has contributed to the expansive growth of the organization into eight of Florida’s most diverse counties. Under her leadership, Planned Parenthood broadened its clinical and educational service over the past ten years to reach the diverse and fast-growing demographics of its community. Numerous awards have been earned by the affiliate—including the “Outstanding Community Health Organization Award” from the Latino Caucus of the American Public Health Association, and the “Affiliate Excellence Award for Achievements in Diversity” from Planned Parenthood Federation of America.

Ms. Tamayo serves on the Board of Planned Parenthood Federation of America and was nominated by Democratic National Committee Chairman, Howard Dean, to serve as a Party Leader and Elected Official member of the Platform Committee for the 2008 Democratic National Convention. In 2006 Ms. Tamayo received the ACLU Foundation of Florida’s Nelson Poynter Award which is presented to an individual who has made a major contribution to the cause of civil liberties in Florida. A native of Cuba, Ms. Tamayo lived in New Jersey and Connecticut prior to relocating to South Florida in 1999”

“Barbara Zdravecky attended 12 years of parochial school in Pittsburgh and embraced the religious teachings about helping people and being charitable. But she rebelled against church doctrine opposing abortion and birth control as invalid "in a world in which people are suffering." Zdravecky, 58, was named head of the Sarasota-based Planned Parenthood (now Planned Parenthood of Southwest and Central Florida Inc.) in 1993, and voted top Planned Parenthood CEO in the nation in 2006. With an annual budget of $8.5 million, she oversees 100 employees and seven clinics that serve 26,000 patients in 15 counties. Her headquarters is in a new "green" facility in Sarasota's Rosemary District.

Personal: I came here after graduating from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1975. I got my nursing degree at Manatee Community College in 1980. I joined Manatee Memorial Hospital as head nurse of its psychiatric program, and I had been there for almost 10 years when I was asked to apply for CEO at Planned Parenthood in 1993.

Business background: I have never taken a business class. I was a good manager and smart enough to hire people smarter than me, and I trusted them to help me build my business background. My skills as a psychiatric nurse also helped me. You learn to listen, assess situations, deal with crises. You know how to pair people together to get the best team results.”

“Andrea Anderson credits her Danish mother for raising her with healthy attitudes about sexuality as part of the human condition, rather than as a taboo subject.

"My family is first generation from Denmark, so we were raised very openly with those Northern European values, where sex is just part of the everyday discussion. That was sort of an anomaly in the Midwest," said Anderson, 41, who moved to Oahu from Michigan in January to become chief executive officer of Planned Parenthood Hawaii. The lack of information available to young people about sexuality and reproduction is putting their health at risk, said Anderson, who encourages families and schools to address the topic.

Anderson, a triathlete who also enjoys yoga and going to the beach, worked for Planned Parenthood in Michigan for seven years before moving here.

She holds a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University, where she also was an adjunct faculty member, training health teachers in sex-ed."

YAKIMA -- Anna Franks, longtime president and chief executive officer of Planned Parenthood of Greater Washington and North Idaho, is resigning, the organization announced Friday.

Franks, who is moving to Dallas with her husband this summer, has worked for the nonprofit agency for more than 12 years.

She began in 1998 as CEO of Planned Parenthood of Alaska. In 2005, she became president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of Central Washington. The agency merged with Planned Parenthood of the Inland Northwest in 2010 to form Planned Parenthood of Greater Washington and North Idaho.

The organization's board appointed Gage Stromberg, the vice chair, to head a search committee.

“At Joint Venture she is a member of the board, serves on the executive committee, and serves as an advisor to the annual Silicon Valley Index. She also brings her expertise in nonprofit governance and her commitment to inclusion to help steer the organization.”

After she graduated from college, Linda moved to her family home in Tulsa, where she took a job as a reporter (“my job was to report on gentler things.”) She soon married her husband John, who worked for the Southern Pacific Railroad, a job that took them all over the country.

The journey took her to graduate school in creative writing at San Francisco State; to rural El Centro, New Mexico (“I literally read every book in the library”), to Washington, DC, where she worked in a variety of social service organizations; to graduate school in Psychology at Santa Clara University; and to work with a market research firm in Pennsylvania, all while she raised two sons.

“By 1989 she had become extremely passionate about the state of women's issues, particularly those relating to reproductive health. “I knew I wanted to do something about it,” she recalls, “so I called the Director of Planned Parenthood in Santa Clara County and told her I would like to volunteer. As luck would have it, she told me she had just submitted her resignation and suggested I apply for the job.”

“Currently, Vicki Cowart is the president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of the Rocky Mountains. She has revitalized five health centers, opened two new health centers, and raised more than $9 million for system-wide improvements, including a flagship headquarters.

Vicki Cowart served the oil and gas industry for twenty-six years including ten years as the Colorado state geologist and director of the Colorado Geological Survey (CGS). She led that agency within the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, overseeing scientific programs relating to geological hazards and resources. She also served as president of the Association of American State Geologists. Recently, Colorado Governor Bill Ritter appointed her to be a Trustee of the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colorado.

Cowart was honored with the Distinguished Achievement Medal from the Colorado School of Mines in 1999. She earned a bachelor’s and master’s degree in physics from Worcester Polytechnic Institute. She earned a master’s degree in geophysics from the Colorado School of Mines in 1977 and is a former president of the Colorado School of Mines Alumni Association and director of the Colorado School of Mines Foundation Board.

Cowart is an active member of the Colorado Women’s Forum. She is married, and with her husband is an avid skier, hiker, biker, and ballroom dancer.”

Most recently, I was COO of Planned Parenthood of South Florida and spent 12 years there fighting for the rights of individuals to have access to reproductive health care and family life education. Like New Jersey, Florida faced budget cuts, continual challenges from family planning opponents, and protests at its medical centers. So while the weather here may be different, many of the challenges are not. It's an honor for me to join this organization.”

CEO: Ruth-Ellen Blodgett

Base Compensation: $130,467
(Partial salary – 2009 990)

“July 20, 2009—Planned Parenthood Mid-Hudson Valley is pleased to announce the appointment of Ruth-Ellen Blodgett as its new President & CEO. “With twenty years of experience as a health care executive in New York State, Ruth-Ellen Blodgett will make an outstanding leader,” Board Chair Helen Ullrich said, “Her expertise in management as well as her considerable strategic and operational skills will be an enormous asset to the organization at a time when the health care crisis and poor economy are putting tremendous pressure on safety-net providers like Planned Parenthood.”

Before coming to the mid-Hudson Valley, Ruth-Ellen Blodgett was the CEO of Planned Parenthood of Northern New York with administrative offices in Watertown, NY, where she effected a complete organizational turnaround. Prior to her work with Planned Parenthood, Ms. Blodgett was the Vice President of Community Development at Samaritan Medical Center. Her background includes hospital administration, managing primary care and women’s health services, and experience running outpatient psychiatry and addiction services as well as prenatal care programs. Her work earned her an award for “unique contributions to maternal health” by the NY State Perinatal Association.

Since joining Planned Parenthood Mid-Hudson Valley in September 2008 to oversee business development, education and outreach, Ruth-Ellen Blodgett has been involved in nearly every aspect of implementing the agency’s strategic plan and running health center operations. In her new role as President & CEO, Ms. Blodgett will continue Planned Parenthood’s work to expand access to reproductive health services and education and provide expert leadership as she guides the organization into the future.

“The skills I gained as CEO of Planned Parenthood of Northern New York, my expertise in developing community health networks, and my passion for the mission of Planned Parenthood will guide my vision for continuing on the path the Board has set for Planned Parenthood Mid-Hudson Valley,” Ms. Blodgett said, “and I look forward to taking on the challenges and opportunities ahead.”

Ms. Blodgett succeeds Clare Coleman, who will become the Chief Executive Officer of the National Family Planning & Reproductive Health Association in Washington DC.”

CEO: Patricia McGeown

Base Compensation: $115,224
(2009 990)

“Patricia A. McGeown of Bethlehem was recognized by the Board, staff and supporters of Upper Hudson Planned Parenthood for her fifteen years of leadership as UHPP President/CEO at the agency’s Annual Meeting and Volunteer Recognition Reception on May 26, 2010 at the Normanside Country Club in Delmar.

Ms McGeown was named President/CEO of UHPP in January of 1995. Over the last fifteen years, she has guided the agency through major upheavals in the health care reimbursement system, a wave of violence aimed at abortion providers, a federal push for abstinence-only sex education, a conversion to computer based operations and a continuing imbalance between rising costs and declining government funding. Despite these challenges, the agency has remained fiscally strong, seen a steady increase in patient visits, and developed a regional reputation for excellence in sexual health education.

Under McGeown’s leadership, the agency brought to Albany a series of national leaders including two former US Surgeon Generals and four Presidents of Planned Parenthood Federation of America. The UHPP Troy center was moved to new upgraded facilities and the Hudson center added a teen drop-in center. The agency was a proud, early provider of a series of new products for reproductive health care including Emergency Contraception, RU486 or Medicaid abortion, Depo Provera and other new contraceptive options and, most recently, the HPV vaccine. McGeown has always been a strong advocate for comprehensive sex education and continued to find ways to support an education department in spite of funding challenges. Over the last fifteen years, the agency won state grants to develop and maintain award winning teen pregnancy prevention programs in both Albany and Columbia Counties. UHPP now works directly with Albany Medical College to ensure that medical students receive education and training opportunities related to the provision of family planning and abortion services. UHPP also served as lead agency for a multi-year federal grant from the National Institute of Health which provided millions of dollars in support for HIV/AIDs prevention education efforts through a network of community organizations.

Finally, McGeown positioned the agency as a fearless advocate for reproductive health and rights, leading community coalitions and volunteer activists in statewide efforts to pass legislation such as the state Women's Health and Wellness Act and the federal Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act. In 2004, Pat led a local UHPP contingent of over 350 people who traveled to Washington DC to participate in the March for Women's Lives. In 2009, the agency mobilized hundreds of activists in efforts to help pass health care reform legislation that improved access to reproductive health services.

McGeown has been consistently recognized by her peers for her leadership capabilities. She served for twelve years as President of Planned Parenthood Advocates of New York, a non-partisan, voluntary political organization made up of delegates from Planned Parenthood affiliates across the state. Since 2006, she has been President of the New York State Affiliates of Planned Parenthood. She is a former President of the New York State Public Health Association and served for a decade on that organization's Governing Council. McGeown has been recognized by the YWCA of Schenectady as a Capital District Woman of Achievement."

“Planned Parenthood of Northeast Ohio (PPNEO) President and CEO, Tara Broderick, was recently elected to the national Planned Parenthood Federation of America (PPFA) Board of Directors. She will be one of four affiliate CEOs serving a three-year term on the 29-member national Board.

Ms. Broderick has worked with Planned Parenthood since 1992 as both a volunteer and in affiliate management. During her 18-year involvement, she has served as a volunteer Board Member and Vice-Chair at Planned Parenthood of the Susquehanna Valley (formerly Capital Region) and volunteer Board Member and Officer at Planned Parenthood of Greater Cleveland. At the peak of her career in health care management, Ms. Broderick joined Planned Parenthood of Greater Cleveland in 2000 as Chief Operating Officer, a position she held until 2005 when she was named CEO of Planned Parenthood of Greater Cleveland and oversaw Planned Parenthood’s first five-way merger. Since 2007, she has led the merged affiliate, Planned Parenthood of Northeast Ohio, as President and CEO. She also serves on the PPFA Public Policy Steering Committee.

Prior to joining the Planned Parenthood staff, Ms. Broderick was with University Hospital Health System in Cleveland where she was the Executive Director, UHHS Provider and Central Verification Organization, Medical Management Support. Ms. Broderick also previously served as Executive Director of Prudential HealthCare, Inc. in Cleveland, OH and Assistant Vice President in Planning and Administration at The Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine’s The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center where she managed development of hospital and physician practices and satellite medical facilities.

Ms. Broderick received her B.S. in Community Development from Penn State University, her M.S. in Occupational Therapy from Columbia University and her M.B.A. from The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. Ms. Broderick was an Honoree in 1992 for the Tribute to Women and Industry Award in Harrisburg, PA.”

“She has been a teacher, a social worker, a guest artist, a counselor, a benefits administrator, an executive secretary, a vice president and marketing director for a multi-million-dollar real estate development firm, and the director of two public-purpose agencies.

But most people around here know her as the longtime president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of Eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas.”

“After several different careers elsewhere in the country, Kachel and her husband Ted came to Tulsa in the 1980s. She became director of Domestic Violence Intervention Services in 1984 and during her three years with that agency, she helped build a 60-bed shelter for women and children and obtained funding to train police, district attorneys and judges about domestic violence issues.

She moved to Planned Parenthood in 1988, and during her quarter-century there has steered a ten-fold growth in the agency's services and operations. Under her leadership, the agency's services have expanded into eastern Oklahoma and throughout Arkansas.”

"The Board of Directors of Planned Parenthood of North Texas, Inc. (PPNT) announced today that it has selected healthcare industry leader Kenneth S. Lambrecht as its next President and CEO. Effective mid-April, he will succeed interim CEO Doug Jackson.

Lambrecht brings 20 years of experience in the healthcare industry. Since 2006, he has served as President and CEO of Planned Parenthood of the Texas Capital Region, based in Austin. During his tenure, he oversaw a 70% increase in healthcare services, a 400% increase in educational outreach, as well as a 100% increase in development gifts. Previously, Lambrecht worked with Misys Healthcare Systems (Allscripts), the North Austin Medical Center, and Seton Health Network.

The announcement culminates a six-month national search. Lambrecht received the unanimous endorsement of the PPNT search committee, headed by board chairwoman Lisa Kraus and comprised of 15 members and advisors, including Naomi Aberly, Louise Appleman, Cecilia Boone, Amy Fikes, Amy Jacobs, Reverend Daniel Kanter, Leslie MacLean, Joy Mankoff, Janie McGarr, Nancy Solana, Alinda Wikert and Paul Williams.

"Planned Parenthood of North Texas is an established and growing nonprofit that provides reproductive healthcare services and education to more than 100,000 people in the region each year, and we needed a seasoned leader who brings passion, innovation and a deep understanding of the healthcare industry," said Kraus. "Our entire search committee agreed that Ken combines all of those attributes, which he projects through an enthusiastic, collaborative leadership style that will benefit PPNT as we continue to serve our community and grow."

"Planned Parenthood of North Texas has tremendous opportunities to enhance its ability to provide high quality healthcare, advocacy and education throughout North Texas. I am looking forward to working closely with the Board of Directors and staff to lead such a respected and trusted nonprofit in the years ahead," said Lambrecht.

A longtime Texas resident, Lambrecht holds Bachelor and Master of Science in Health Professions degrees from the Texas State University at San Marcos. Lambrecht's leadership of Planned Parenthood was recognized by the Austin Business Journal in 2008, and he received Austin Under 40 healthcare leadership nominations in 2008 and 2009."

YAKIMA -- Anna Franks, longtime president and chief executive officer of Planned Parenthood of Greater Washington and North Idaho, is resigning, the organization announced Friday.

Franks, who is moving to Dallas with her husband this summer, has worked for the nonprofit agency for more than 12 years.

She began in 1998 as CEO of Planned Parenthood of Alaska. In 2005, she became president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of Central Washington. The agency merged with Planned Parenthood of the Inland Northwest in 2010 to form Planned Parenthood of Greater Washington and North Idaho.

The organization's board appointed Gage Stromberg, the vice chair, to head a search committee.

“Chris Charbonneau has been a CEO for Planned Parenthood affiliates for twenty-three years. She began as a volunteer in Seattle in 1982 as a sexuality educator and public policy volunteer. Chris started PP of Greater Arkansas in 1986. She left Arkansas in 1988 and returned to PP of Seattle-King County as COO, directing its 12 health centers.

In 1993 she became the CEO of PP of Seattle-King County leading the affiliate from a three million to a $17 million organization. In 1996, Chris led a three affiliate merger that created PP of Western Washington (PPWW). In 2008, Chris lead another three affiliate merger combining PP of Alaska, PP of Idaho, and PP of Western Washington to form PP of the Great Northwest (PPGNW). Charbonneau is currently the CEO of PPGNW, with 28 health centers in Alaska, Idaho, and western Washington, providing medical services and sexuality education for thousands of women, men, and teenagers each year.”

CEO: Teri Huyck

Base Compensation: $230,293
(2009 990)

“Milwaukee, WI – Planned Parenthood of Wisconsin (PPWI) announced today the selection of Teresa (Teri) Huyck as the new president and CEO of Wisconsin’s largest family planning and reproductive health advocacy organization. Ms. Huyck has over 20 years of diverse healthcare and executive management experience and has a master’s degree in hospital and health administration.

“Teri clearly stood out in a national pool of highly qualified individuals,” stated Edie Brengel Radtke, chair of the PPWI executive search committee. “She truly demonstrated the qualities we were seeking in someone to permanently lead this organization: a progressive vision combined with a track record of innovative successes.”

Huyck brings a strong background in strategic and operational planning. Prior to coming to PPWI, where she has served as the interim CEO for eight months, Ms. Huyck was senior vice president and chief operating officer of Planned Parenthood Chicago Area (PPCA). At PPCA, among her many accomplishments, Teri led the development of a new $7.4 million suburban health center, opened three express health centers, expanded information technology services, resulting in patient access via the internet, and secured a five-year contract with Chicago Public Schools to provide classroom sexuality education.

“It is a rare gift when one gets the opportunity to work in an organization whose cause is so fundamental to one’s own values and beliefs,” stated Ms. Huyck. “I feel a strong attachment to this agency, its people, and its communities, and I’m very proud of what we have already accomplished together in such a short time. I look forward to forging new partnerships across the state and promoting PPWI advancements in health care delivery, education and advocacy.”

Huyck has also served as vice president of ambulatory/MSO services with Ingalls Health System in Harvey, IL, director of clinical operations at the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine and vice president of ambulatory services at Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati.

“We are exceptionally optimistic about Planned Parenthood of Wisconsin’s future under Teri’s leadership,” said board Chair Judy Hartig-Osanka. “We are grateful for the work she has already done to evaluate and adjust our business model and strategies for continuing PPWI’s mission, and are honored that she is willing to continue her service to the organization.”

“Currently, Vicki Cowart is the president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of the Rocky Mountains. She has revitalized five health centers, opened two new health centers, and raised more than $9 million for system-wide improvements, including a flagship headquarters.

Vicki Cowart served the oil and gas industry for twenty-six years including ten years as the Colorado state geologist and director of the Colorado Geological Survey (CGS). She led that agency within the Colorado Department of Natural Resources, overseeing scientific programs relating to geological hazards and resources. She also served as president of the Association of American State Geologists. Recently, Colorado Governor Bill Ritter appointed her to be a Trustee of the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colorado.

Cowart was honored with the Distinguished Achievement Medal from the Colorado School of Mines in 1999. She earned a bachelor’s and master’s degree in physics from Worcester Polytechnic Institute. She earned a master’s degree in geophysics from the Colorado School of Mines in 1977 and is a former president of the Colorado School of Mines Alumni Association and director of the Colorado School of Mines Foundation Board.

Cowart is an active member of the Colorado Women’s Forum. She is married, and with her husband is an avid skier, hiker, biker, and ballroom dancer.”
